

Independent Candidate for Delegate to Congress.

King S. Woolsey.

Election November 5, 1878.

Work will be begun immediately on the hoisting works for the Tiger mine.

LATE elections throughout the east have generally resulted in republican victories.

THE Citizen questions the legality of the appointment just made by his excellency, Gov. Fremont.

W. A. ROWE, of Gillette, announces himself as an independent candidate for the council, for Yavapai county.

THE Prescott Miner says that town is infested with a few of the meanest people on earth—blackmailers. Fire 'em out.

IN 1865, Campbell was selling whiskey, and Woolsey was opening mines, constructing mills and cultivating farms.

KING S. WOOLSEY was president of the council in the first legislature of Arizona, and was sent from Yavapai county.

HON. JOHN J. GOSPER, territorial secretary, left Prescott last Saturday for the east. He will return the last of December.

"VOTE for congress for King S. Woolsey, the People's Candidate," is printed in large letters on the drop curtain of the Prescott theatre.

Gov. HOLT left Prescott a few days ago for San Francisco. He has not yet decided whether he will go to Idaho, as governor, or locate in Tucson and practice law.

A LETTER received from Florence states that Colonel Woolsey will get two-thirds of the votes in that town. The followers of Stevens, Davis and Campbell are "few and far between."

PAUL WEMER has withdrawn as a candidate for the office of district attorney for Yavapai county. That leaves the race between Masterson, Bremer and Rush, with the odds in favor of the former.

It is stated, says the St. Louis Republian, that the Southern Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads will form a junction at Albuquerque. Present indications, however, point toward Tucson as the place.

DAVID D. COLTON died at his residence in San Francisco, October 9th, aged 47 years. He was vice-president of the Southern Pacific and a financial director of the Central Pacific railroads, and president of the Occidental and Oriental Steamship company. In his death the entire Pacific coast suffers a great loss.

THE Yuma Sentinel may now be considered the "champion black" guard paper of Arizona. Its attack on Colonel Woolsey is unmanly and ungenerous, and without any foundation in fact. A newspaper that indulges in such low personalities to bolster up the falling fortunes of its favorite candidate, is very generally looked upon by right-minded people with disgust and scorn.

THE Citizen publishes a letter from ex-Governor Safford to the governor of Sonora, calling his attention to the number of crimes lately committed in Southern Arizona and the escape of the perpetrators into that country. Gov. Safford asks that attention be given to their capture and punishment, thereby maintaining the friendly relations now existing between the two countries.

THE Prescott Enterprise informs the public that they are ready to print any quantity of election tickets on their new "Campbell" press. Now that's what we call "acknowledging the corn." John G. was very liberal in furnishing the Enterprise with a press to print election tickets. If John G. doesn't stop that kind of extravagance in a fruitless race for congressional honors, he will one day wake up to find that an individual about his dimensions has been "taken in and done for."

THE "bummers" of Prescott have what the boys call a "soft thing." When one of them feels that it is just about the time he ought to indulge in a cocktail, he takes a position near the door of a recently established saloon, and shouts at the top of his voice, "Hurrah for Campbell." He is immediately seized by three or four "rounders" and carried to the bar, where he is filled with tanglefoot, forty-rod or chain lightning, without being charged a nickel. We are satisfied the boys can stand this sort of foolishness any length of time, but how long, oh! how long, can the great liberality of John G. Campbell be imposed upon in this fearful manner?

THE DIFFERENCE.

In looking over the old files of the Arizona Miner recently, we found the following in its issue of April 11, 1866: "J. G. Campbell is back from Los Angeles and has a choice and extensive stock of liquors, cigars, etc., on the way here. Upon their arrival, which is expected within this month, he will open his well known saloon on the plaza, and we doubt not make it as heretofore a very popular resort."

Looking on further in the files of the same paper, we found the following in its issue of May 23, 1866: "Colonel Woolsey is about the busiest man in the country. With two ranches largely cultivated, two mills in course of erection and the opening of lodges, he has his hands full. It is reported that the Green Tree and other lodges near the Agua Fria mill, which he is opening, are gigantic in size and amazingly rich. We hear that the colonel is soon to erect a quartz mill at Walnut Grove in connection with Mr. Cullumber."

The above extracts show the relative business positions of Mr. Campbell and Colonel Woolsey in the years named, and there is a striking contrast between these two men in a commercial comparison. While one was dealing out poor liquors and cigars at enormous prices to those who, at that early day, were more or less compelled to purchase from him, and thereby greatly enriching himself, the other was using his whole energies and all the means at his command in developing the great resources of our territory, and is today comparatively a poor man. The honest voters of Arizona can "look on this picture, and then on that," and they will see in one the man who has made his "barrels" in trafficking in liquors and cigars at exorbitant prices; in the other the man who has devoted the best years of his life for the progress and advancement of this territory. Every thinking man, who has our common prosperity at heart, will vote for Colonel Woolsey in preference to the cloistered, money-bags, John G. Campbell.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD.

THE endeavors of the Salt River Herald to build up Phoenix and the great Salt River valley, by informing the world at large of the location of the garden spot of Arizona have been attended by an appreciation of such a character as to leave no doubt of its permanency as a weekly newspaper. The proprietors, always on the alert to keep slightly in advance of the requirements of our locality, have the pleasure of announcing that after November 1st this paper will be issued every Wednesday and Saturdays, thus giving our subscribers for the same money two papers per week instead of one. The increased expense, which will be merely nominal or just enough to cover the cost of the extra paper, we expect to be borne by our advertising patrons. The increased benefit to advertisers by the issue of a semi-weekly HERALD, should be apparent to every one. We will state before hand, however, that it is an experiment, and that, after the publication of a semi-weekly one month, we find we have been misled and overestimated the wants of this community, then we will discontinue our Wednesday edition and devote our whole time to a weekly, as heretofore.

OUR NEW JOB OFFICE.

MR. JOHN J. GOSPER, one of the proprietors of this paper, and now in San Francisco, is making arrangements for placing in this office, in connection with the HERALD, a first-class, complete job office, which will enable us to do any work in that line in a superior manner and at prices but slightly in advance of those charged in San Francisco. We will be prepared to do job work after December 1st, and in the meantime would ask our friends to reserve their orders until that time.

Davis will poll a big vote in Pima.

Woolsey will get 700 votes in Yavapai county.

Campbell is practically out of the field. Woolsey will poll most of the votes in Yavapai county.
